Performance Standards
(reporting in Lexile® measures)

Test Publisher. North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

Test Information. The 2013 North Carolina READY End of Grade Language Arts/Reading Assessments and End-of-Course English II Assessment are designed to measure students' proficiency on the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) for English Language Arts, adopted by the North Carolina State Board of Education in June 2010. The EOG assessments are administered annually to students in Grades 3 through 8. The English II assessment is administered to students enrolled in English II (generally Grade 10). Assessment results will be used both for school and district accountability under the NC READY Accountability Model and for Federal reporting purposes (NCDPI, 2013b).

Method. The Lexile Linking Study was conducted in 2013 in conjunction with the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction in Grades 3, 5, 7, 8 and English II. A linear linking methodology was used: (A) across grades for Grades 3 through 8 since these are on a vertical scale; and (B) within course for the English II End-of-Course Assessment.

Performance Standards. Performance standards provide a common meaning of test scores throughout a state or nation concerning what is expected at various levels of competence. In October 2013, the North Carolina Department of Instruction established four achievement levels: Level 1, Level 2, Level 3, and Level 4 (NCDPI, 2013a). In March 2014, the North Carolina Department of Instruction revised those four levels to establish five achievement levels: Level 1, Level 2, Level 3, Level 4, and Level 5.

As an example, the five achievement levels for the Grade 3 NC READY EOG Reading Assessment are (NCDPI, 2014):

Achievement Level 1:
Students performing at this level have limited command of the knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature as assessed by referring to the text when asking and answering questions; recounting stories and determining a central message, explaining how the message is conveyed through key details in the text; describing characters and explaining how their actions contribute to the plot; and determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, especially literal and nonliteral language. They will need academic support to engage successfully in this content area.

Students have limited command of informational text, showing inconsistency in referring to the text when asking and answering questions; identifying the main idea and finding the most important details that strengthen the main idea; describing the relationship between events, ideas, concepts, or steps using appropriate language; determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text; demonstrating understanding through information gained from illustrations and words; and describing connections between sentences and paragraphs.

Students demonstrate limited command of language when determining the meaning of a word within the context of a sentence and distinguishing between literal and nonliteral meanings. They rarely demonstrate the use of grade-appropriate vocabulary and will need academic support to engage successfully in this content area.

Achievement Level 2:
Students performing at this level have partial command of the knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature as assessed by referring to the text when asking and answering questions; recounting stories and determining a central message, explaining how the message is conveyed through key details in the text; describing characters and explaining how their actions contribute to the plot; and determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, especially literal and nonliteral language. They will likely need academic support to engage successfully in this content area.

Students have partial command of informational text, showing inconsistency in referring to the text when asking and answering questions; identifying the main idea and finding the most important details that strengthen the main idea; describing the relationship between events, ideas, concepts, or steps using appropriate language; determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text; demonstrating understanding through information gained from illustrations and words; and describing connections between sentences and paragraphs.

Students demonstrate partial command of language when determining the meaning of a word within the context of a sentence and distinguishing between literal and nonliteral meanings. They inconsistently demonstrate the use of grade-appropriate vocabulary and will likely need academic support to engage successfully in this content area.

Achievement Level 3:

Students performing at this level have a sufficient command of grade-level knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature assessed at grade 3, but they may need academic support to engage successfully in this content area in the next grade level. They are prepared for the next grade level but are not yet on track for college-and-career readiness without additional academic support.

Achievement Level 4:

Students performing at this level have solid command of the knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature as assessed by referring to the text when asking and answering questions; recounting stories and determining a central message, explaining how the message is conveyed through key details in the text; describing characters and explaining how their actions contribute to the plot; and determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, especially literal and nonliteral language. They are academically prepared to engage successfully in this content area.

Students have solid command of informational text, showing consistency in referring to the text when asking and answering questions; identifying the main idea and finding the most important details that strengthen the main idea; describing the relationship between events, ideas, concepts, or steps using appropriate language; determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text; demonstrating understanding through information gained from illustrations and words; and describing connections between sentences and paragraphs.

Students demonstrate solid command of language when determining the meaning of a word within the context of a sentence and distinguishing between literal and nonliteral meanings. They demonstrate consistent use of grade-appropriate vocabulary and are academically prepared to engage successfully in this content area.

Achievement Level 5:

Students performing at this level have superior command of the knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature as assessed by referring to the text when asking and answering questions; recounting stories and determining a central message, explaining how the message is conveyed through key details in the text; describing characters and explaining how their actions contribute to the plot; and determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, especially literal and nonliteral language. They are academically prepared to engage successfully in this content area.
in a text, especially literal and nonliteral language. They are academically well-prepared to engage successfully in this content area.

Students have superior command of informational text, showing consistency in referring to the text when asking and answering questions; identifying the main idea and finding the most important details that strengthen the main idea; describing the relationship between events, ideas, concepts, or steps using appropriate language; determining the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text; demonstrating understanding through information gained from illustrations and words; and describing connections between sentences and paragraphs.

Students demonstrate superior command of language when determining the meaning of a word within the context of a sentence and distinguishing between literal and nonliteral meanings. They demonstrate exemplary use of grade-appropriate vocabulary and are academically well-prepared to engage successfully in this content area.

The five achievement levels for NC READY EOC English II Assessment are (NCDPI, 2014):

Achievement Level 1:
Students performing at this level have limited command of the knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature as assessed by supporting analysis of the text with textual evidence; determining and analyzing the development and refinement of a theme or idea throughout a text; summarizing a text objectively; analyzing the development, interaction, and contribution of characters in a text; determining meanings of words or phrases in a text; analyzing the impact of word choice on meaning and tone; analyzing how authors’ choices create literary effects, such as tension; analyzing point of view and cultural experiences in literature from outside the U.S., drawing on world literature. They will need academic support to engage successfully in this content area.

Students have limited command of informational text, showing inconsistency in supporting analysis of the text with textual evidence; determining a theme or idea and how it’s revealed and refined throughout a text; summarizing a text objectively; analyzing the order and manner a key element is introduced and explored in a text; determining figurative, connotative, and technical meanings of words or phrases in a text; analyzing the placement and contribution of particular sections of text, including larger portions of texts; determining an author’s point of view/purpose and its presentation.

Students demonstrate limited command of language when determining and clarifying the meaning of words by using the context, identifying word changes that alter meaning, consulting reference materials, and/or verifying initial thought of word meaning; demonstrating an understanding of figures of speech, analyzing their contribution to the text, and analyzing subtle variation between similar terms. They rarely demonstrate the use of grade-appropriate vocabulary and will need academic support to engage successfully in this content area.

Achievement Level 2:
Students performing at this level have partial command of the knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature as assessed by supporting analysis of the text with textual evidence; determining and analyzing the development and refinement of a theme or idea throughout a text; summarizing a text objectively; analyzing the development, interaction, and contribution of characters in a text; determining meanings of words or phrases in a text; analyzing the impact of word choice on meaning and tone; analyzing how authors’ choices create literary effects, such as tension; analyzing point of view and cultural experiences in literature from outside the U.S., drawing on world literature. explored in a text; determining figurative, connotative, and technical meanings of words or phrases in a text; analyzing the placement and contribution of particular sections of text, including larger portions of texts; determining an author’s point of view/purpose and its presentation.

Students demonstrate partial command of language when determining and clarifying the meaning of words by using the context, identifying word changes that alter meaning, consulting reference materials, and/or verifying initial thought of word meaning; demonstrating an understanding of figures of speech, analyzing their contribution to the text, and analyzing subtle variation between similar terms. They demonstrate knowledge of standard English conventions: grammar, usage, capitalization, punctuation, and/or spelling. However, they demonstrate inconsistent use of grade-appropriate vocabulary and will likely need academic support to engage successfully in this content area.

Achievement Level 3:
Students performing at this level have a sufficient command of knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature but may need academic support to engage successfully in more rigorous studies in this content area. They are prepared for further studies in this content area but are not yet on track for college-and-career readiness without additional academic support.

Achievement Level 4:
Students performing at this level have solid command of the knowledge and skills contained in the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) Reading Standards for Literature as assessed by supporting analysis of the text with textual evidence; determining and analyzing the development and refinement of a theme or idea throughout a text; summarizing a text objectively; analyzing the development, interaction, and contribution of characters in a text; determining meanings of words or phrases in a text; analyzing the impact of word choice on meaning and tone; analyzing how authors’ choices create literary effects, such as tension; analyzing point of view and cultural experiences in literature from outside the U.S., drawing on world literature.
