How are school year minutes calculated?

Must be provided to all students in the school.

School year minutes are the total of all full school days and half school days and any increased learning time provided to all students in the school.

Example

- The regular school year for a school included 176 full school days and four half school days that all students were required to attend.
- The school is in an LEA where a full day is 390 minutes and a half day is 195 minutes.
- The school also provided 80 days of additional learning time for which all students had the opportunity to participate.
- The additional learning time lasted 90 minutes per day.
- The total minutes would be 76,620, calculated as follows
 - 176 days multiplied by 390 minutes = 68,640 minutes
 - 4 days multiplied by 195 minutes = 780 minutes
 - 80 days multiplied by 90 minutes = 7,200 minutes
- $68,640 + 780 + 7,200 = 76,620$ minutes

Is “increased learning time” included in the calculation of school year minutes?

- Yes, the “number of minutes” reporting indicator includes the total number of minutes within the school year, including the minutes added due to the increased learning time. We note that, to satisfy the requirements of the turnaround model and the transformation model for providing increased learning time, a before- or after-school or weekend instructional program must be available to all students in the school.

Are minutes from an activity that was not available to all students included?

No. Minutes are included only when the activity was available to all students.
