The University of North Carolina at Pembroke, in collaboration with National Board Certified teachers and University faculty and staff, will again offer a support program for 2009-2010 National Board candidates. The support program will offer monthly sessions. These sessions will provide a thorough exploration of the five core propositions, teaching standards, writing styles and the stages of the National Board Certification process.

This program for National Board Certification candidates will begin on Saturday, September 12, in Room 222 in the School of Education. A new addition to the program this year will include a renewal session on Saturday, October 10, 2009.
